Spread the word

Help grow a culture of generosity across South Australia.

SA Giving Week is about celebrating the role giving plays in our communities, and inspiring more people to get involved in ways that feel meaningful to them. Whether you're a charity, business or individual, you can play a role by sharing SA Giving Week with your networks. Every post, conversation and invitation helps inspire others to get involved.

Simple ways to take part

- Share SA Giving Week with your networks
- Start a conversation about giving
- Reflect on how you choose to give and the causes you support

For charities & not-for-profits

Show how generosity enables your work and the impact it creates.

Example social post

Generosity makes our work possible.

Through the support of our community, we're able to [insert impact].

SA Giving Week (4–8 May) is a chance to celebrate the role that giving plays in strengthening communities across South Australia.

For businesses

Giving brings teams together – strengthening culture, connection and community.

Example social post

Giving is something that brings people together.

As part of SA Giving Week (4–8 May), we're recognising the role our team can play in supporting the community – whether through volunteering, contributing, or simply showing up.

As a team, we're proud to support organisations including [insert].

It's a chance for us to come together, give back, and be part of something bigger.
